

since iboc is not at all practical due to adjacent channel interference,I would like to suggest mandating the AMAX standard for am radio as an alternative.it provides for high fidelity sound on am while maintaining acceptable selectivity on recievers.along with perfected motorola CQUAM stereo,it is an excelant improvement to the am broadcast band,at little expense to manufacturers ,compared to the adoption of IBOC